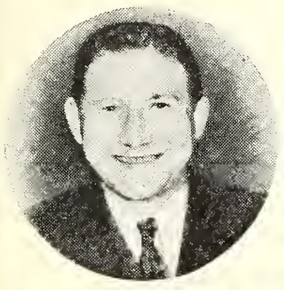
"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

By Bill Gersh

THE NEW YEAR



With this issue we enter into the new year of 1944. A year, we hope, that is destined to produce great events...And perhaps open the way to nationally progressive developments for the future of this industry. This past year, which should be reviewed for the edification of all concerned with this industry, was rather hectic and turbulent and yet - progressive, too.

BEGINNING OF '43

The year 1943 started off with a loud and resounding bang. It found machine prices zooming to ever new heights. It found equipment becoming more and more scarce. It saw the most tremendous growth of the arcade field in all the history of this industry. It opened the path for revamping of every kind of equipment. It developed a new type of operator. He found that his equipment was more than ever in demand by every retailer. It helped prove that the public were very deeply interested in and attached to the economical amusement, service and merchandising which this industry offers.

INDUSTRY CONCENTRATED

The year 1943 also proved to all and sundry that this industry had become a much more highly concentrated unit. It brought forth far seeing men who wanted to tie this unit into a more solidified group for the benefit of tomorrow's industry when they realize that this business will grow to many times its former largest size. It proved the need for open and above board conferences for all members and all divisions of this industry. It pointed the way to new methods for buying and selling in the post-war era. It most definitely established the fact that this industry was in the strongest financial position that it has ever been in all its history. It also showed a most definite trend to the music division of the field and toward the end of '43 a survey proved that approximately 84% of the firms engaged in this industry were in music in one fashion or another.

SEEK RECOGNITION

But all this is only enlightening for what it can indicate for the future. This is but gazing backward at a reflection so as to better able to look ahead. This industry has adopted a new and youthfully eager course for tomorrow. It is seeking the ways and means to assure itself greater stability, understanding, recognition and acceptability for tomorrow. The work that it did in '43 and the new type of recognition it gained led to the knowledge that this industry, even tho now completely concerned with used equipment, was also going ever faster ahead.

OPA ENTERS PICTURE

OPA entered into the picture of this industry on September 1, 1943 when a new regulation known as Maximum Price Regulation Number 429 became law. Prior to that this industry, with only a very few realizing that it was and had been under GMPR (General Maximum Price Regulation) since March, 1942, had gone ahead as fast as it could to meet the conditions of a sellers' market because of the demand created by the growing shortage of equipment. The one big reason so few paid attention to the OPA regulations was simply because of the fact that as far as the public was concerned they were still paying the same price for the services rendered by this industry as they always had even prior to the creation of OPA. It was the general consensus of this industry that OPA had been created to protect the general public and not interfere in the inner workings of this or any other industry as long as the public-consumer was so protected. The sellers' market was in full swing when OPA stepped into the picture. Most firms had paid many, many times the price for machines that they were now asked to sell them for according to OPA's used, consumer durable goods regulation, MPR-429.

FIRST WARTIME CONFERENCE

OPA stepping into the picture with MPR-429 almost brought a complete halt to all business within the industry itself with everyone's hands flying up to futilely beat the air and nothing practical or definite being done about it. At that moment The Cash Box stepped into the picture. A few weeks previous to this The Cash Box had gone thru a most lengthy and most complete explanation (which is still considered a classic) as to what the general interpretation of the dual OPA regulations, which were now in effect, meant and also how they applied to this industry. The Cash Box then took upon itself to call the First Wartime Conference entirely at its own expense. And tho only a few weeks time was given, many attended from far away points. That very same week a committee of men chosen at this conference went on to Washington and met with the officials of OPA who were in charge of this new regulation.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

FIRST COMMITTEE MEETING WITH OPA

It is the sincere belief of The Cash Box as well as a great many leaders in this industry (and without any doubt that of the OPA officials who were present) that this first committee meeting did much to change the course and bring about the investigation which has since ensued so that OPA would gain a better understanding of this industry. Even the mockers of the First Wartime Conference and this first committee meeting with OPA, who are now benefitting from it, must admit this outstanding fact. This proved to all the industry that if the men comprising this business would just as courageously step forth each time, whether Federal or local agency was involved, whatever the problem, that this industry could gain better understanding for itself.

NEW OPA COURSE

The news we now have, after discussions with OPA executives, seems to be based on the theory that amusement devices may be exempted from new ceiling arrangements which are bound to come into being, but that music and merchandising equipment will definitely be given a ceiling price control arrangement. Whatever does result, and we do earnestly hope that OPA's executives will follow this course, it should be emphatically pointed out here and now that this most certainly was the result of the work of the first committee that met with OPA and brought to light a great many and varied factors which OPA at that time knew too little about.

SECOND WARTIME CONFERENCE

The Second Wartime Conference that was held at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago on November 15, 16 and 17 of this past year also opened a new path. Greater aid to the war effort was the theme. Getting better acquainted with each other because of the nationalized business which has resulted in this industry was the motif. And tho many came together for the sole purpose of creating a National Coin Machines Board of Trade they did not see this great idea come into being. The reason was just the same and just as simple as that which confronted Samuel "Curley" Robinson of A.O.L.A.C. and his work prior to the hearing granted him by the House Ways & Means Committee in Washington to gain more equitable taxation for this industry. Men, for some reason or other, just won't give their time to something that means their salvation and advancement until pressed to the wall. As "Curley" learned to his despair only 3% of the men whom he approached gave his great effort any consideration whatsoever. The percentage of the Second Wartime Conference was much, much better than that. But, it was mighty small when it came to the creation of something for the benefit of all this nation's industry. The men who had attended the First Wartime Conference had asked that a Second Wartime Conference be called and that The Cash Box call this conference, wherein the work necessary to create a National Coin Machines Board of Trade could be openly discussed. The Cash Box, at the Second Wartime Conference remembering these facts, stepped aside so that the men could go ahead with their plans and so that no one publication would seem to be dominating such an organization movement.

CLEAR THE PATH

Remember, this isn't failure. It is only the facts pointing themselves out very clearly to all those who have this industry's progress at heart. And these facts show how the road to success is covered with malicious mischief, with suspicion, with barbed obstacles thrown thereon by wicked tongues. All these things must either be completely swept aside or circumvented over a regrettably long and unnecessarily wasteful period of time so that this industry can gain the sort of recognition it needs to grow greater than ever before in its history.

NEW KIND OF PROGRESS

This past year of '43 also brought satisfaction from the standpoint that this business not only remained in existence, much, much to the surprise of a great many theorists who, at the beginning of '43, stated it would be long dead before the year's half way mark would be reached, but that it actually went ahead. It did show a new kind of progress. The men in this business now have new and greater visions. Those that remain in this business today don't just think in terms of their own little territories anymore. They realize, just as we as a nation have come to realize, that the earth has grown much, much smaller by the tremendous development of the modern plane, likewise this industry, too, is now become nationalized in all its problems and is no more composed of individual, little, local problems.

BECOMING NATIONALIZED

Coinmen now think and work and sell and buy nationaly whereas, in years gone by, many of these very same coinmen never stepped out of their own territories to do business. There are more operators today doing business clear across the nation than ever before in the history of this business. There are more jobbers and distributors with a better understanding of what the other parts of the country are doing and enduring than ever before. All this culminates in a greater, better, nation-wide industry. A more complete industry. An industry geared to national progress.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

"INTERNATIONALIZED"

And all this points even further ahead. It points to the time when peace will at at last be here, and when production will once again return to normal in the coin machines manufactories, and this industry will then become "internationalized". That is a new word. We've just coined it. But keep your eye peeled for it months from today when this war is over and the international export business once again starts under way. The business that was enjoyed in former years with nations all over the world will seem but a drop in the bucket to what these foreign countries are planning to buy from this industry the moment they can. The European market alone will take away more production in the first year of peace than they did in the past ten years from this industry. The South American, African and Asiatic countries will not be too far behind. The need for intelligent and experienced coin machines men will prove extremely great. To relieve what will be a tremendous shortage of skilled mechanics in this field, salesmen, etc., there will have to be a regular training program put into effect and financed by the leaders in this industry so that this trade will then have trained and experienced men upon whom it can depend.

LEADERS TO FORE

This coming year of '44 will be the greatest from the standpoint that it will pull this industry even closer together as a solid unit. Take for example the committee just created by OPA. A year or so ago anyone suggesting that the men comprising this committee get together to help benefit this industry would have been the recipient of the loudest and longest horse laugh he had ever heard. That's changed today. Coinmen now accept the fact that their leaders should get together for the benefit of all this industry. Queer as it may seem to a certain few, they plan to get other leaders together, too. They plan to call upon more and still more men in this business to form themselves into committees. To thereby gain equitable taxation. To arrange for a better understanding of the correct percentage of commission the operator requires. To restrict and if possible do away with all bad business practise. To raise the level of recognition for this industry. To create a credit bureau that will allow manufacturers, distributors, jobbers and operators and outside financial interests to work with a better financial understanding of each other. And to do a great many more necessary things for the future greater growth of this industry.

NEEDS OF THE TRADE

The "Coin Machines Credit Bureau" was first suggested to this industry by The Cash Box, as was the National Coin Machines Board of Trade, as was a National Tax Council, as were the First and Second Wartime Conferences, and the first committee meeting with OPA, as was the change in location commissions to a 30%-70% basis from the former and economically unsound 50%-50% basis. And as were also a great many other suggestions which have since won acclaim. And now with roll-backs and cutbacks on war materials production the need arises for careful surveillance of materials and changes in market conditions. And as the year goes on, many other problems, including the cure of the tax problem, will prove necessary.

KEEP CLOSE WATCH

But, enough of looking back. This is 1944, and we look ahead. We are most fervent in our hope that our war experts know whereof they speak when they say that the European war will be finished sometime this year. This is one great hope that '44 holds out to all of us. We must also remember that it is an election year. And that, too, means something to many of the divisions of this industry that always first feel the brunt of the attacks from politicos seeking newspaper prominence during such a year. We have much to be hopeful for, but we also have to carefully be on the watch every single second so that we aren't taken by surprise and thrown off the course we have adopted for our future progress.

MORE RECOGNITION EFFORT IN '44

We all know that in '44 a great many of us are going to double and redouble our efforts to gain the necessary good for all concerned with this industry. We feel sure that those men who germinated the first thoughts regarding closer association of the members of this industry are, too, going to work hard to see this germination bear fruit. We also believe that more and more of the leaders of this industry are going to step forth in '44 to prove that they truly are leaders and will help in divers fashions to create a better understood and certainly better recognized industry. We know that many plans to gain the better understanding and thereby the necessary recognition from the public will be presented during this year.

SEEK THE SAME END

The armed forces of our nation have much to thank this industry for in '43. We hope that this work, too, will continue on even a greater scale in '44. This is something that builds for better future welfare, understanding and recognition of this industry. We must all realize that during '44, and especially at the Second Wartime Conference was this most apparent, that we have at last gained the one point that this business has long sought. And that is that this is an industry composed of decent men just like yourself from all over the country who seek the same end and who want the same good things for themselves and their families. And to gain that end you, who intend to remain in this business, must cooperate to the fullest possible extent so that you can then make this industry nationally successful, so that all will be successful.

A (1943) COPYRIGHTED FEATURE OF "THE CASH BOX" 381 FOURTH AVE., NEW YORK

A year ago at this time, the coin machines industry was looking toward 1943 with great trepidation and uncertainty. The war condition had brought many problems and handicaps that looked unsurmountable. However, the need for economical relaxation plus the ingenuity and fighting spirit of the people in this business brought about one of the best financial years of all times. Now we are going into 1944, and look ahead with a great deal more optimism on all fronts. We hope 1944 will bring peace thruout the world - and to all our friends in the coin machines business, a prosperous happy year.

All-American, '59

Today . . . safe in America, far from the fury of war . . . he grows toward a future of glorious expectations. In the years ahead, he may, indeed, be hailed as All-American . . . or as a miracle-working scientist, a famed musician, a mighty man of industry, President of his country.

But the future of glorious expectations is now in the hands of American fighters on the far frontiers of American freedom. Only if American fighters win decisive, durable victory can Americans face the future with smiling hope in their hearts. And American fighters can finish their job only if we who remain at home—safe in America, far from the fury of war—lend our support without stint.

Buy U. S. War Bonds today. Buy all the Bonds you can afford as the best investment on earth. Then dig down again and buy Bonds until you are sure your sacrifice is a tithe of the daily sacrifices of Americans in battle.

NOTICE

MARCH, 1942, MARKET PRICES APPEARED IN THE SEPTEMBER 7, 1943 ISSUE.

PRICES LISTED ARE CURRENT WEEK'S MARKET PRICES.

These Prices In Effect for One Week Only

Check Former Lists to Average High and Low Prices

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.

CHECK THIS CODE CAREFULLY. BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH EACH ONE OF THE CODE NUMBERS AND WHAT THEY SIGNIFY. THESE CODE NUMBERS APPEAR IN FRONT OF THE NAME OF EACH MACHINE.
